Question 1

Define a two parameter procedure that returns a matrix of the given row and column dimensions and filled with random floating point numbers between 0 and 1. To get a random number in this range, use `(RANDOM 1.0)`.

Question 2

Implement matrix (or dot) product.